

OUTFITTERS, GUIDES & PACKERS SCHOOL DATE & PRICE INFORMATION

45 Day Course - $5,000 (Deposit $2,000)

July 30th - September 12th, 2009

12 Students Per Session - Lodging and Meals included

Students will be packing hunters in and out of our camps and will accompany a professional guide and client on an actual hunt during the last 15 days of this course. Ours is the only school giving students this in-the-field learning experience. It is certified by the Colorado Department of Higher Education and it's the only school operated by a full time professional licensed outfitter with over 27 years experience.

Students should plan on arriving at our Indian Cliffs Base Camp by 4:00 PM on the day before classes are scheduled to begin.

This Will Be The Best Two Week Horseback Learning Vacation You'll Ever Take!

14 Day Basics Seminar - $2,200 (Deposit $1,100)
July 13th-26th and July 30th-August 12th, 2009
12 Students Per Session - Lodging and Meals included

Winterhawk will once again be offering its popular two week basics seminar program in 2009. It's for those with limited time... those that are unable to attend the 45 day course but are still interested in experiencing the Flattops Wilderness and learning the basics of our program in an introductory course. Many of the students participating in the two week seminar will follow up the following year to complete the remainder of the coursework required for the 45 day session.

Some of the topics covered include: Introductory or intermediate riding lessons; Basic horsemanship; Horse health care; Wilderness survival; Outdoor photography; Outdoor and camp cooking; Conservation; National Forest Service use and regulations; Introduction to mule packing; Camp living; Saddle and tack care and maintenance. Lots of high country horse back riding in the majestic Rocky Mountains of western Colorado.

Students should plan on arriving at our Indian Cliffs Base Camp by 4:00 PM on the day before classes are scheduled to begin.
