OUTFITTERS, GUIDES & PACKERS SCHOOL

If you're seriously interested in a career in the outdoors industry, our school is for you. We have one of the best line-ups of instructors ever assembled. Our facilities are located on the edge of the spectacular Flat Tops Wilderness area and we have over 250 square miles of remote wilderness to train you on.

We want to give you the very best education possible and with our staff, facilities, equipment, experience and curriculum we're confident we'll do just that.

You'll receive a real education. We are the only school that offers an apprentice class where you'll actually assist a professional guide and client on a live hunt. You'll "learn by doing."

We realize this is an important decision so we encourage you to compare us with other schools. Then give us a call and let's go to work together.

Professionally trained and experienced people are definitely in demand in the outfitting industry. In fact, finding qualified experienced employees is one of the biggest challenges facing many outfitters. Fortunately, we get dozens of telephone calls every month from people who want a job working for us, or for other outfitters. The problem is that when asked what experience the person has, the answer is too often something like... "a little"... "I've been around horses some"... "I've hunted a lot and done some fishing"...

"I hunt whitetail deer"... and "I love the outdoors." While this may be a start, it takes more than a "little" experience to be a valuable employee to a professional outfitter. That's why we created Winterhawk Outfitters, Guides and Packers School. We offer our own vocational education program to provide well-rounded, hands-on, practical experience and educational training to people who are seriously interested in pursuing a career in the outdoor recreation industry, with an emphasis on wilderness horseback outfitting, guiding, and packing. We've always believed providing outdoor education and experiences to people is a key to preserving our hunting rights, which is another reason we operate the school.

Some of the courses of study and training offered include: Horsemanship and Mulemanship, horse health care, horseshoeing, mule packing, setting up a wilderness camp, wilderness survival, fly fishing, guiding elk, deer, bear and mountain lion hunters, archery, rifle and muzzleloader hunting, elk bugling, wildlife photography, camp cooking, trophy judging, Forest Service regulations, first aid/CPR, trophy care and capping, plus many other practical skills.

We feel that one of the greatest things that sets our school apart is that we have professionals in each field teach the courses. For example, a professional horseshoer teaches

"FINDING QUALIFIED, EXPERIENCED EMPLOYEES IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST CHALLENGES FACING MANY OUTFITTERS."

Winterhawk's Outfitter's Guides and Packers School is approved by the Colorado Department of Higher Education as a licensed vocational school, offering training in the fields of guiding and packing and knowledge of the entire outfitting industry. In Colorado, any vocational or employment training school must be licensed and approved by the Colorado Department of Higher Education.

The school offers a 45 day course of study and training during July, August and September. The program is available to students who are seriously committed to a career in the wilderness, horseback outfitting business.

shoeing, a veterinarian teaches horse health care and first aid, a fly fishing guide instructs the fly fishing course, etc. The other guide and outfitter schools that we're familiar with have just one or two instructors who teach all phases. We have a professional in each field teach all phases.

Winterhawk is a highly successful, professionally run outfitting business and we're committed to providing the same quality standards in our school. But the truth is, just as we tell our clients that their hunting success depends on their attitude, and how hard they're willing to work, the same is true for you. We have the knowledge and experience to teach the job skills you'll need to be successful. But when it's all said and done, your desire and commitment to learn will be the key factor in determining your success.

We offer 45 day curriculums July through September. Check out our website at www.winterhawk.com then give us a call to discuss specific class dates. Call early as class sizes are limited and they fill quickly.
